Kallista Colour Codes

I get many phone calls asking about the colour of particular Kallistas, from owners who want to touch in minor paint damage or repairers doing more extensive repairs or re-paints.

Throughout Kallista production cars were given paint codes which are stamped on the VIN plate on the bulkhead cover under the bonnet. There were twelve colours on offer at the start of production, but from the outset customers could choose virtually any colour. By the end of U.K. production there had been a total of seventy three different colours, including four different shades of pink, dayglo red for the Marlboro cigarette specials, turtle green for the car polish promotion and Slazenger blue for the tennis ball competition car.

Here is the complete list together with, where available, the actual source colour.
